The interns are here! The interns are here!

What started as a radical idea and dream a few years ago is now a wonderful reality! Our first three Faith Lutheran interns- Courtney, Joshua, and Trevor- have moved into the Ansgar House and begun their time at FLC! God has been so faithful in making this happen, and so many Faith Lutheran members have contributed towards making this happen. From the major and steady financial gifts that made the Ansgar House possible, to the generous donations of furniture and household items to make the Ansgar House a home, to the countless hours of work people have put into the house- a LOT of time and resources have been put into making the internship program a reality.

But now the work really begins!

Over the next couple months, our three interns will get immersive experience in as many aspects of congregational ministry as we can give them. Thanks to a dedicated staff with diverse areas of specialization, we have created "ministry tracks" that our interns will participate in. They'll gain exposure and experience in things like youth ministry, pastoral ministry and pastoral care, children's ministry, worship and music ministry, and even custodial, financial, and church communications. In doing so, they may discover some interests and gifts they had not considered before, while also gaining a deeper understanding and appreciation for what happens in a congregation. When all the tracks are finished, they will identify one or two areas of specialization in which they will focus for the rest of their internship.

We are excited also to offer some other formative opportunities for the interns during their time here. In the beginning of October, they will be traveling down to the LCMC Annual Gathering in St. Louis. Later in October, they will help Kristen lead the first ever Augustana District High School Retreat. In November, they will join me at Mt. Carmel Ministries for a week of teaching for the Awaken Project. Finally, in January, we are hoping to bring them to Trinity Lutheran in San Pedro, CA, to join with its intern community and the community from Canadian Lutheran Bible Institute for a week of instruction. It's going to be a full year!

Now, here's how you can help:

Make them feel at home! Greet them, talk to them, get to know them.

Two of them have families far away, so make them feel included and loved.

Pray for them! We're going to be working them hard, and two of them will also be taking college classes at the same time, in addition to working part-time jobs!

Become an Intern Sponsor. We are looking for Monthly Sponsor-an-Intern participants. Sponsors will either take the intern grocery shopping or provide the intern with gift cards to a grocery store. Our goal is to provide each intern with a sponsor each month.

The interns are here! Now the fun begins!

See you in church,

Seniors Scene

by Pastor Paulus Pilgrim

Time flies, as we say. We just said farewell for the summer and here we are gearing up for another series of Seniors'

Potluck meetings and programs that will go through May, 2024. We have an excellent steering committee who will make each meeting something you won't want to miss. We invite you to talk to them about a program you would like to see on the docket. Please do so. Many of the programs we have enjoyed have been suggested by someone other than the steering committee.

Here are the current committee members: LoAnn Hanson, Norene Roepke, Dick Desens, Daryl Bateman, Gladys Pilgrim, Marsha Schmit and me.

Our first program on Thursday, September 28, will feature Marc Telecky. Marc is in charge of refuse disposal and recycling for the city of Hutchinson. You may have seen an article in the Hutchinson

Leader about how there is need for a clearer understanding of how to divide up correctly the refuse and recyclables we place on the curb each week, and other things we need to dispose of. Not doing that correctly can raise the cost of our city's disposal program. So this is a timely message for us. Marc plans to bring his assistant, Sarah Young. He says Sarah has been a long-time worker in the department and knows the history better than he does. They plan to speak, then give ample time for questions.

So don't miss the first Seniors' Potluck on Thursday, September 28, 2023, beginning with those wonderful potluck dishes at 12:00 noon.

Please invite someone new to attend, perhaps with you, so they can discover how much they can enjoy this fellowship.

SEE YOU AT
POTLUCK!!!

Stewardship Matters

There is an old story about a pastor who addressed the congregation one Sunday about a pressing financial need. "The good news," he said, "is that we have plenty of money to meet this challenge. The bad news is that it's still in your pockets."

Stewardship
A way of living

One key aspect of Christian stewardship is to begin, not with the church budget or the cost of a project, but with the blessings each of us receive from God. Annual budgets and project costs can often seem too big to handle, but we know that God generously provides for His people, so that when believers give according to what they have first received, amazing resources for ministry can be gathered.

As Faith Lutheran pursues the ministry God has entrusted to us, this conviction drives us to keep embracing opportunities that may, at first, seem unattainable. Looking back, however, we see how faithfully God has blessed our church and drawn out steadfast giving—from Faith on Grove to an expanded staff, from Phase I of the building project to the Ansgar House, from annual mission trips to the new Faith Lutheran Internship Program (FLIP), and many, many more. On that record of God's steadfast providence, we lean forward eagerly into the future, confident that the resources we need for ministry are—and will be—already in our pockets!

STUMP THE pastor

Q: Does the church have an official position on (a particular public policy)?

A: This question is asked frequently, especially given the many major changes in society and the law in recent years. There are churches and denominations that regularly—and perilously—wade into the realm of public policy, but not Faith Lutheran, the Augustana District and Lutheran Congregations in Mission for Christ (LCMC, our national church association.)

The reason for that is not because we do not care about public issues, but for theological reasons. Martin Luther talked about God's work in terms of two kingdoms or two different ways of reigning. He identified them as God's right-hand and left-hand kingdoms.

The right-hand kingdom is the Church, where God works directly in Word and sacrament. Here the Gospel is preached, Christ is proclaimed as Lord and the forgiveness of sins is declared. The left-hand kingdom is the world—home, community, society and nation. God also rules here, but works indirectly through other authorities—parents, government, neighbors, organizations and others.

The trouble starts when the two kingdoms cross over and become confused, and that can occur in both directions. If the Church tries to run the world or the world tries to run the Church, it is counter-productive to both. Sadly, history is replete with examples of both errors and it is ever more common in our own day. It works much better when both kingdoms stay in their lane.

The doctrine of the two kingdoms does not mean that Lutheran churches have no convictions about public policy or what will bless the left-hand kingdom the most. Rather, we think about those issues theologically, not politically. What reflects God's will as stated in the Bible? What expresses love for our neighbors and what leads to harm? What gives life and what deals death? How do we live faithfully as God's creatures and when do we succumb instead to the siren song of "you can be like God"? The Church teaches the faith, rather than takes policy positions, in order to equip Christians to exercise their citizenship faithfully.

In that sense, Christians absolutely should bring their faith into their citizenship and weigh how they participate in society in light of Christian truth. But that is a job for individual Christians as they live in the left-hand kingdom, not for congregations and denominations that comprise the right-hand kingdom. (The only exception is if worldly authorities interfere so directly in the Church that its ministry is impaired. Then, the Church must join the apostles in declaring, "We must obey God rather than any human authority." [Acts 5:29])

It is part of our Christian vocation, our callings from God, to exercise our citizenship faithfully and with all the integrity that we can muster. That allows Christians to disagree politically about what policies best reflect God's will for the world, but it also unites them in seeking what is most life-giving for themselves, their neighbors and the world around us in light of the faith.

Phase II Building Committee (P2BC)

The P2BC is meeting regularly with our architects, Brian Berg and Kevin Zachman, to establish a general design for Phase II of Faith's building project. Once a plan is developed, it will be presented to the congregation to get thoughts and feedback.

From there, the next step will be trying to raise enough money to fund the project. That prospect is both exciting and daunting! Please keep this project in your prayers, watch for when information about it is presented and join in this effort to pursue together God's future for Faith Lutheran Church.

“Faith Seeks Understanding”

Continuing Learning Opportunities for Adults

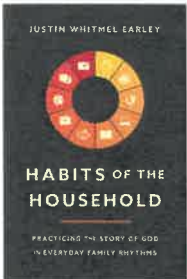

Digging Deeper sessions are held between services on Sunday mornings at 9:15 a.m. A variety of topics are offered throughout the year. Watch your Faith Matters and Sunday bulletin announcements for the current opportunities and locations.

Dusting Off Theology—The Sacraments

This series of taped presentations by Dr. Jim Nestingen began last spring, but summer arrived before it was finished. This Digging Deeper session will meet in the sanctuary to view the remaining presentations on Holy Baptism and Holy Communion. Starting September 10 at 9:15 a.m.

Habits of the Household (a Digging Deeper especially for parents)

You long for tender moments with your children--but do you ever find yourself too busy to stop, make eye contact, and say something you really mean? Daily habits are powerful ways to shape the heart--but do you find yourself giving in to screen time just to get through the day? You want to parent with purpose--but do you know how to start?

Join Pastor Dave as we discover simple habits and easy-to-implement daily rhythms that will help you find meaning beyond the chaos of family life as you create a home where kids and parents alike practice how to love God and each other. Based on the book by Justin Whitmel Earley. Meeting September 10 in Library Square and the following weeks in the Faith Center.

Crossways

A new year-one Crossways Bible study will begin in September. Crossways is a “big picture” study of the entire Bible. It includes an overview of each book, placed within the framework of the Bible’s “big story.” It combines Bible reading, commentary and full-color illustrations to show how the whole Bible fits together. Want to know your Bible better? Crossways is for you!

Crossways classes meet for 20 weeks per year for three years.

Year 1—The NEW class will begin on Monday, September 18 at 6:30 p.m. in the Faith Center.

Year 2 class will not be held this year.

Year 3 class will resume on Sunday, September 10 at 6:00 p.m. in the Faith Center.

To enroll in Crossways, get more information about it, secure course materials or other details, please contact Pastor Scott before the study begins.

The Origins Story

The Origins Story, a study of the book of Genesis, will meet on Mondays from 10:30 a.m. until noon, starting on September 11. Genesis profoundly reveals God’s will for the world, exposes the human condition, sets the foundation for the entire Bible and points to Christ as Lord in intriguing ways. Anyone is welcome to attend and no registration is necessary. Just bring a Bible and a pen or pencil. To learn more about this study, contact Pastor Scott.

Fall Faith Groups

A new Faith Group series will begin the last week of September. This series will focus on some of the women of the Bible. There will be a variety of days and times of the week that groups will meet, again with a Tuesday evening option including dinner. Watch for more information in the weekly bulletin and start getting your groups together or contact Marsha Schmit at 587-2093 to find a group, day and time that fits your schedule.

My name is Joshua Fernandez. I am from St. Paul, MN, and lived there for nine years until moving to Bolivia, South America where I lived for 11 years before returning to Minnesota to study at the Free Lutheran Bible College in Plymouth, MN. I recently graduated from college and I am very excited to be able to join the Faith Lutheran community. I am looking forward to experiencing serving in a church alongside others, while always being willing to learn more about God's Word and where He plans to lead my life. A couple of areas I am excited to learn more about are how to connect with the youth and encourage them up in their faith as well as seeing how God works through my gift of tech knowledge to provide for the church.

My name is Courtney Corrente and I am from Neenah, Wisconsin. I am currently working on earning two undergraduate degrees in Next Generation Ministry and Strategic Communications through Liberty University. I am so excited and grateful to become a part of the Faith family and learn more about Jesus through being in this community.

I'm Trevor Wersal, I grew up in Hutchinson and graduated from HHS in 2021. I went to Luther College for a year before joining the Awaken Project, a gap-year ministry that blessed me with the opportunity to study the Bible and travel the United States for youth ministry events. I'm now attending the Institute of Lutheran Theology (ILT) via synchronous online courses, majoring in the History of Religions. In this internship, I'm extremely excited to have the chance to join and help develop a growing young adult community at Faith, I'm also looking forward to living in good Christian community with the other interns, and finally, diving into God's word and ministry life in the church, and seeing what God has laid out for me.

Did you know . . . that the weekly bulletins, weekly service videos, monthly Faith Matters newsletter, monthly church council minutes, calendar information, links to all registration forms, sermon note links, and more can be found on the Faith Lutheran Church website at Faithlc.com? There is so much information on the church website and it is updated with new information one to three times per week. If you have not been on the site recently, I encourage you to check it out, save it, and look at it regularly.

Did you also know . . . that if you sign up for the Friday morning Faith Five weekly e-newsletter that it is also a great way to stay “in the know” about FLC ministries and events? It includes links to the weekly bulletins and the past week’s service, the top five announcements for the week, a calendar of most events for the current month, links to the monthly Faith Matters, the current LCMC and AD newsletters when they come out, and more. This is a great tool to keep you connected and remind you of upcoming events. You can sign up to receive this newsletter by sending an email to office@faithlc.com.

“Go Therefore and Make Disciples of All Nations” A Word from Bold Witnesses

Reflections from Pastor Paul

One of our trusted partners in global missions is Dr. Christoph Wassermann, who resides in Germany but leads witness to the Good News of Jesus Christ to Muslims within countless countries around the globe. To hear him relate his stories is so encouraging and challenging for all of us seeking to be faithful witnesses.

One of the partners Christoph works with is All India Masihi Jamat. We at FLC support one of some 95 pastors/evangelists of AIMJ. The Augustana District presently supports three more. To hear the stories of the powerful witness given by not only these pastors but others working with them is amazing.

It is like we are entering into the early Church where one’s witness to Jesus Christ as Lord can and does often take one’s life. At the very least that witness can alienate you from your wider family. Yet, through these witnesses, countless people are being moved by the Spirit to come to Christ and be baptized. It is cause for much joy.

We often struggle with how we go forward. We need to rejoice more often in how those with whom we are partnering are powerful in their witness. We have multiple partners that exhibit that Spirit-led, daring witness. Thanks be to God for the privilege of standing with those facing life-threatening challenges and yet go boldly forth.

Audio and Visual Technology at Faith

Sometimes, having to deal with the fast-paced, ever-changing world of technology tempts me into signing off completely and moving to an Amish farm. Good riddance to it all! If you have felt like that before, I understand the situation. Even as a millennial myself, I still fumble with technology now and then. However, this article is not meant to scare you into avoiding technology, but to embrace it with confidence and encourage you into considering how you may plug in (ha ha ha) with the AV tech team at Faith.

It may sound silly, but lighting and sound can enhance worship as much as music and liturgy can. After all, we wouldn't want to worship in the dark or not hear what Pastors Scott and Dave preach about, no matter how many Vikings jokes there might be! In some churches, AV technology is overlooked. In others, there is so much lighting and sound cues that worship becomes more of a concert. For us at Faith, I take the approach of AV technology serving as not just a necessity (needing to hear and see), but also as a worship enhancement. I consider things such as the look and color of projection slides, the level of lighting in the worship spaces, and the balance of sound during communal singing versus special music. Our system seems to run seamlessly and unnoticed in the background, until something goes off! That is where you come in.

As you know, it takes many hands to make worship run smoothly. Nothing is more distracting during worship than the sound system popping and squealing or the TV projections cutting out halfway through a song. So where do you come in? Right now! We have congregation volunteers on our tech team run the equipment so these problems can be avoided at all costs. These volunteers monitor the recording stream, change the lyrics and prayer slides, adjust the volume, and much more! Thanks to them, I can focus on playing organ and guitar and directing ensembles. We need you, the congregation of Faith, to step into these positions however you may feel called.

Thanks to the brains of some tech savvy members, our systems in both the Sanctuary and Foundation space not only run identically but are very user friendly. So, if you are a worship "floater" that enjoys all styles of worship or if you have your favorite one, you can serve on either system with ease! I am looking to add more volunteers to our AV tech team. Perhaps you and a spouse or high school child can operate different systems on the same Sunday. Even just once a month is helpful in filling this need. I know technology can be worrisome, but I am confident that anyone can serve with my direction and a little practice. I encourage you to talk to your fellow members about what it is like for them to run the equipment, prayerfully consider how you might serve on our tech team, and come to me with any questions or concerns.

For those who are currently serving and those who are interested in joining the team, I will set up a couple of AV technology sessions to get acquainted with the equipment as well as give some helpful tips when running the systems. Mention your availability and we will get together soon! Our audio and visual technology at Faith is an important part of Sunday mornings as well as other functions and by serving on this team, you can have a part of what makes worship at Faith meaningful.

Soil Deo Gloria, Austin

The Faith Quilters and Global Health Ministries want to say "Thank You"

On August 9, a delivery was made from Faith Lutheran Church to Global Health Ministries. A total of: 50 quilts, 29 newborn kits, 862 pairs of socks, 140 uniforms and gowns, 238 assorted blankets, 4,940 bandages, 24 towels, 9 bed pads, 1 utility bag, and 1 lap throw were delivered this trip.

Thank you to everyone who donated supplies, to those who stitched, rolled, and regularly work from home, as well as to those who come in every month (or more often) to prep, cut batting, and assemble quilts and other items. Thank you also to those who delivered the items. Your gifts of time and supplies allow these items to bless those in need.

The biggest item that is currently needed for upcoming projects is gently-used cotton sheets which can be dropped off in the church office and marked "Quilters".

New quilters, stitchers, bandage rollers, etc. (with or without experience) are always encouraged to plug into this ministry. Contact the church office for more information.

Spiritually, Mentally and Physically Healthy

What do you want most for your children? You might say something like have great friends, quality education, success, good physical and mental health, joy, and a solid faith. So as parents you set up play dates, teach them about eating their fruits and veggies, sign them up for sports, help them with their homework, read with them, encourage them to persevere during something difficult, plan family outings, and take them to church.

But as parents, we also know that it is more helpful for children to “do as I do” and not “do what I say not as I do.” So as parents we aim to eat healthfully, be physically active, work hard in our careers, continue to learn, spend time with friends and family, date our spouse, and grow in our faith.

Our calendars and time get filled with our children’s activities and our own. It can feel overwhelming. Many times what we want to prioritize gets pushed to the side. Sometimes we end our week feeling exhausted and burnt out. My hope for you is to sit down with your spouse and talk about what your priorities are for your well being and your family’s. I find that if I am caring for my spiritual well-being, the other parts of my health, mental and physical, easily follow suit. So how will you care for your spiritual well-being and your family’s? It could be talking about what is going on in your family’s life and praying about it, worshiping together, and going to Sunday School. Yes even parents can do Sunday School! Digging Deeper is your time to learn more about your faith and take time to be in fellowship with other adults.

You don’t have to be perfect parents and do everything right, because honestly no one is perfect! Give yourself grace as you help your family be spiritually, mentally, and physically healthy.

Laura Stowman, Director of Children and Family Ministries

Kristen Durst, Director of Youth and Family Ministries

Nursery is Available

Starting September 17 the Nursery will be staffed by Erika Smith from 9 a.m.—11:30 a.m. each Sunday.

This is wonderful for parents with very young children who want to attend a Digging Deeper class and have fewer distractions during the 10:10 worship services.

Parent Digging Deeper

Join Pastor Dave Wollan and other parents to learn about adding Christian habits to your household during a fall Digging Deeper class starting at 9:10 a.m.. This seven week series will touch on subjects like morning time, mealtimes, discipline, screentime, family devotions, marriage, work, play, conversations, and bedtime.
